

GUIDELINES for SFRR-EUROPE VISITING FELLOWSHIPS 2019

Sponsored by ELSEVIER

On behalf of

Two SFRR-Europe Visiting Fellowships for 2019 [€2000 each one] are sponsored by Elsevier on behalf of FRBM and Redox Biology, respectively and will be awarded to Early Career Investigators to cover travel and accommodation expenses during a short research stay [minimum 4 weeks] in another laboratory in Europe. Applicants should submit a single PDF containing a brief summary of the research project (maximum one A4 page) stating the expected duration and rationale for the short stay, CV (maximum 2 A4 pages) including a list of publications, and abbreviated CVs (maximum 2 A4 pages) of supervisors at their home and host institutions. Previous awardees of Early Career Investigator Travel Awards are not eligible. Applications should be submitted as a single PDF file, using the online system for this SFRR-Europe call for applications for the SFRR-E VISITING FELLOWSHIPS 2019, which is available at <https://www.sfr-europe.org/>. The deadline for applications is 7 June 2019, and applicants will be notified during the forthcoming SFRR-E Ferrara Meeting 2019.

Requirements for the applicant:

- Under 40 years of age and without a permanent university position
- Member of SFRR-Europe
- Submission of an original manuscript or up-to-date focused REVIEW article to FRBM or Redox Biology 1 year after visit is recommended
- Presentation of a brief report to the SFRR-Europe Executive at annual meeting and online on the SFRR-Europe website

Requirements for the supervisors at the home and host institutions:

- Member of SFRR-Europe

On behalf of the SFRR-Europe Executive Committee,

Michael Davies
President SFRR-Europe

Juan Sastre
General Secretary SFRR-Europe